

Student Mobs Burn Buildings In Saigon Riots

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Youthful mobs in Saigon, Hue and Da Nang today in the worst outbreak of organized rioting in South Viet Nam since last summer.

Several hundred students supporting the government sacked and burned the Student Union building in Saigon in a counter-demonstration.

In Da Nang, South Viet Nam's second largest city, more than 1,000 howling youths stoned a U.S. enlisted men's barracks as antigovernment demonstrations took an increasingly anti-American tone.

Village Attacked
A grenade exploded at the height of the riot, seriously injuring three demonstrators. There were no American casualties. Another blast a short time later killed a woman.

The 30 or more Americans in the barracks fired shots into the air to scare off the demonstrators as rocks smashed windows.

The mob then attacked a nearby Roman Catholic village and set a house afire. Villagers moved out of their houses to defend themselves while their women carried children and belongings to a waterfront pier.

After the fire, mob leaders called for a withdrawal. But some rioters slipped back into the village and set two more houses afire.

Another grenade exploded as the rioters pulled back. A maid working at the enlisted man's barracks was wounded and died soon afterwards.

Opposition Grows
More Americans are stationed in Da Nang, on the South China Sea, than anywhere else in country, except Saigon.

As in the earlier disorders, police stood by without interfering. Firemen doused the flames before they could wreck the building but the interior was ruined.

Khanh ordered authorities not to tangle with the rioters "in the hope that public opinion will separate the extremists from the others," a government spokesman said.

Khanh was expected to address the nation by radio today and appeal for national unity in face of the Communist threat.

Student and Buddhist opposition has swelled in the past week since Khanh's military junta elevated him from premier to president and promulgated a constitution giving Khanh extraordinary powers in a national emergency.

The students are demanding a popularly elected civilian government. Khanh told them in a direct confrontation Saturday that popular elections couldn't be held until the Viet Cong has been defeated.

Wild Wisconsin Twisters Wreck Over 400 Homes

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—A series of shattering tornadoes ripped almost without warning into southeastern Wisconsin residential areas late Saturday, leaving one community in a virtual state of emergency Sunday. Damage was estimated unofficially in the millions of dollars and more than 400 homes were damaged or destroyed as the violent winds hit four cities. Tornadoes struck three of the communities, but no deaths were reported and injuries, most of them minor, were held to 25.

City Bars Visitors
The picturesque city of Port Washington on the shore of Lake Michigan—once famed as a commercial fishing center—was off limits to all visitors Sunday as Mayor Frank E. Meyer went into emergency meeting with the City Council. "Only people who live in Port Washington and insurance claims adjusters with proper identification will be admitted," a spokesman at the sheriff's office in the city said. He said barriers have been set up at all roads into the community of 4,755.

Port Washington was the hardest hit, but tornadoes also were reported at Fond du Lac and Oak Creek, a Milwaukee suburb. Heavy wind damage also was recorded at Beaver Dam.

Police Chief Vernon Laabs of Port Washington, whose own home was destroyed, estimated damage to homes, businesses and institutions at $2 million. He said more than 30 homes were destroyed.

Fighting Flares In Malaysia

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—Fighting flared on two fronts in Malaysia over the weekend, the government reported Sunday.

It said four Indonesian invaders were killed in a clash Sunday morning in the southwest coastal area of the Malay Peninsula.

In the Malaysian Borneo state of Sarawak, a separate government announcement said, Indonesian guerrillas struck in two places late Saturday. Three of the raiders were reported killed.

The Borneo attacks—the first in almost a month—were placed six days after Malaysia reported a small invading force crossed from Indonesia and landed in the Pontian area of Malaya's Johore State. Eleven of the invaders now have been reported killed and about 30 captured.

The government said the Indonesians used rocket launchers and 80mm mortars in one of the Borneo attacks, in the Bau area of Sarawak, 30 miles from Sarawak's capital of Kuching and near the shared jungle border with Indonesia.

Patrons Robbed

ALGHERO, Sardinia (AP)—Eight masked bandits took over a night club near this city on the west coast of Sardinia, held more than 70 customers at gunpoint for four hours, and escaped with about $11,500 in money and jewelry Sunday night.

destroyed or damaged beyond repair and 200 others had varying degrees of damage.

No Advance Warning
"Crews are working full blast," the sheriff's office spokesman said of cleanup operations in Port Washington. Electric power was still out in a large section of the community.

Most of the 25 persons injured had been released from St. Alphonsus Hospital. About 40 windows were broken in the hospital, the roof was badly damaged and power was shut off as the tornado swept through. An emergency generator went on automatically but this failed after 30 minutes. It was repaired in about 20 minutes.

No formal tornado warning had been issued but many residents escaped injury by rushing to their basements when the black storm clouds appeared.

Mrs. Frank Ward said her husband shouted to her from a living room window: "My God, look what's coming!" They rushed their two children into the basement, and when they came back up only the front door was left standing.

Strike Voted At White Pine

HOUGHTON (AP)—Local 5024 of the United Steelworkers of America (USW) voted Sunday to strike if necessary to back up contract demands against the White Pine Copper Co. when the current pact expires Aug. 31.

The vote was 1054 to 23. The company was set to present its contract offer today at a bargaining session in nearby White Pine. The USW handed the company its list of demands when the talks opened last June 25.

A White Pine spokesman said the company wants a 36-month contract but that the union is asking a 21-month pact. The current agreement was for 24 months.

The company said union demands would cost an estimated $3 million in the first year.

Comment from the USW was not immediately available. The mining firm said its White Pine mine is the second largest underground copper mine in the world, producing 50,000 tons of refined copper a year. The company said its total employment in the area is about 1,700 persons.

Contract talks at the mine erupted in strikes in 1957 and 1959. The current contract was signed without a walkout.

Five Lovelies Ruled Out Of Beauty Pageant

HUNTINGTON, W.Va. (AP)—The week-long Miss United States beauty pageant opens tonight minus five lovelies.

Pageant officials disqualified them because they do not live in the states they represented—Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Connecticut and Rhode Island.

Robert Schaub, the pageant attorney, said all five lived in Massachusetts. Winner of the Miss United States title will be elected Friday.

Pay Boosted To Lure More U. S. Diplomats

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department is launching a double incentive program to boost the supply of U. S. diplomats who can speak one of 29 difficult languages from Korean to Swahili.

The twin lures are money—perhaps up to $1,000 a year added pay—and promises of good assignments which could lead to an ambassadorship.

Languages Are Barrier
The department's aim is to get 1,000 officers—one-fourth of the entire U. S. diplomatic corps—equipped with one of the native languages of remote countries from Bulgaria to Southeast Asia.

At present only about 600 U. S. career diplomats meet this qualification.

The State Department already has a policy that career diplomats know two foreign languages. Since French or Spanish is spoken at about half of all overseas posts, it has encouraged proficiency in these and other comparatively easy-to-learn languages with broad use.

But it has run into more difficulty with the languages which are tough for Americans to learn and which are spoken only in limited areas. These "hard language" areas are in Eastern Europe, the Near East, Africa and Asia.

Choice Posts Listed
A State Department survey has shown that about 45 percent of U. S. Embassy and consular jobs in the hard language regions require a good knowledge of the local tongue. To enlarge the supply of diplomats qualified for these assignments, the department is promising:

1. Higher salaries for newcomers now entering the foreign service already knowing a hard language; pay increases to those already in the service who will take training in the languages urgently needed.

The present most-wanted list is Hebrew, Bengali, Burmese, Korean, Nepali, Sinhala, Tamil and Vietnamese.

2. Preference for choice assignments to those who know a hard language.

The department has listed all the ambassadorships and deputy mission chief jobs in the hard language areas, plus many other high positions there, as assignments to be given "to all other things being equal"—to those who know the language.

Typhoon Rages Across Kyushu, Leaves 9 Dead

Police said landslides caused most of the casualties as the typhoon rampaged through Kyushu Sunday.

Eight Weekend Auto Accidents Take 43 Lives

By The Associated Press

Eight weekend auto accidents in five states killed a total of 43 persons, including 11 children.

Near Aurora, Minn., Sunday three New York State residents driving to a funeral home to view the body of their father were killed in an accident.

The victims included Max Kochevar Jr., 21; his brother, Robert, 20, and sister Judith, 13, all of White Plains, N.Y.

The car was driven by a cousin, Jacqueline, 21, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Kochevar of Gilbert, Minn. Jacqueline was killed, and so was a young Minneapolis woman riding in the second car.

At Scotland Neck, N.C., Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lee Draughon of Hobgood, N.C., and four of their five children were among nine persons killed when their car ran off a rural road and crashed into a tree.

Near Elyria, Ohio, Sunday a convertible slammed into a concrete bridge, killing a recently divorced father and his four children.

They were Ronald Pandey, 26, of Lorain, Ohio, and his children, Debbie, 7; Danny, 5; David, 4, and Dennis, 2. Pandey was taking the youngsters to a store to buy them some toys.

In Gorham, N.H., Sunday six persons were killed on Route 16 when two cars crashed head on in a downpour and one careened into a third. Six other persons were taken to a hospital.

Near Sanford, N.C., Saturday, eight persons were killed in a two-car collision on fog-shrouded U.S. Route 1.

Indiana recorded two three-dead and one four-dead accidents during the weekend, the latter caused by a 14-year-old girl driver.

Hurricane Hits Santo Domingo, Leaves 14 Dead

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Cleo, worst hurricane of the season, raged across the Caribbean toward Jamaica today, leaving behind a path of death and destruction.

The storm swirled past southern Puerto Rico Sunday after battering the Guadeloupe islands. Officials blamed Cleo for at least 14 deaths, 100 injuries and $50 million in damage to the French possession.

Cleo will probably strike Jamaica tonight with hurricane force, the Weather Bureau said.

Gale force winds and heavy rain pounded the southern coast of the Dominican Republic early today. Small but powerful Cleo, with 140-mile center winds, pressed onward south of the island of Hispaniola, which the Dominican Republic shared with Haiti. Severe lowland flooding was predicted.

The Weather Bureau said that Cleo's 125-mile wide mass of hurricane force winds apparently would skirt Hispaniola's heartland. The storm was headed toward Haiti's southern peninsula, where thousands were killed last year by Hurricane Flora.

Cleo also might strike Cuba with its fury intact, the Weather Bureau said. It was too early to say whether it would pose any danger to the U.S. mainland.

Cleo was centered at 4 a.m. EDT, about 125 miles southwest of Santo Domingo City, moving on a path between west and west-northwest about 17 m.p.h.

The blast "blew the men to pieces," Undersheriff Bob Kracht said.

An oil company representative discovered the bodies Sunday. Kracht said the tragedy may have occurred either Friday or Saturday.

Strewn along the bank of Picance Creek, 50 miles southwest of Meeker, were the 22 dynamite wrappers.

The men, all from Vernal, Utah, were Charles McConkie, 35, his son Duane, 16, Robert Hatch, 27, and Houtz Ross, 44.

Peace Pledged By Democratic Party Platform

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Democratic platform writers adopted today a hard-line anti-Communist platform which nevertheless pledged that peace will be the prime national objective.

The national security section of the 1964 platform, due for approval by the national convention Tuesday night, declared that "international Communism has lost its unity and momentum."

"Responsible leadership, unafraid but refusing to take needless risk, has turned the tide in freedom's favor," the platform said.

Must Stay Ahead
The declaration vowed that the Democratic administration will maintain America's "overwhelming supremacy" in nuclear power to deter Communist aggression, saying:

"Until such time as there can be an enforceable treaty providing for inspected and verified disarmament, we must, and we will, maintain our military strength, as the sword and shield of freedom and the guarantor of peace."

And in a sentence aimed at Republican nominee Barry Goldwater, who favors the sharing of presidential control over the use of some tactical nuclear weapons with the European Allied supreme commander, the Democratic platform committee stated:

"Control of the use of nuclear weapons must remain solely with the highest elected official in the country—the president of the United States."

The planks issued Sunday, embodying only the national defense and foreign policy sections of the platform, were clearly designed to rebut charges in the Republican platform that the Kennedy-Johnson administration has shown "weakness before communism," alienated the European allies, and pursued defense policies which will give the Communists a "potentially fatal parity of power" with this country.

Some Not Satisfied
The platform pledged "unflinching devotion to our com-

Traffic Kills 16 During Weekend

By The Associated Press

At least 16 persons were killed in Michigan traffic during the rainy August weekend. No drownings were reported.

The worst accident claimed three lives Saturday in a two-car crash in the Upper Peninsula, while two persons died Friday night in another two-car collision in Dearborn Heights.

The Associated Press weekend fatality toll begins at 6 p.m. Friday and ends at midnight Sunday.

Dixie Dissent May Bring On Floor Fight

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Swelling Democratic ranks worried over Dixie delegates on the eve of their national convention Sunday—and word that Lyndon B. Johnson may be denied a unanimous vote for the presidential nomination.

Southern delegations were called to a combined caucus. The convention credentials committee was summoned into session earlier to decide whether to recommend the seating of all, part, or none of the Alabama and Mississippi contingents.

The possibility of a floor fight and a possible walkout hung on the outcome.

In advance of various strategy and decision-making huddles, this was the situation on the convention scene:

Humphrey Hopetful
Part of the Alabama delegation planned to vote for their segregationist governor, George C. Wallace, for the presidential nomination even though according to his request that his name not be placed in nomination. They planned to, that is, unless they were thrown out of the convention first, or decided to walk out, or were gavelled down.

Platform drafters hammered together planks on defense and foreign policy but had more trouble figuring out what to say on domestic questions—civil rights among them.

Negro leaders staging a giant civil rights rally billed as one of their speakers Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, who will accept a call to be Johnson's running mate but doesn't know whether it will come.

The President said Saturday in Washington he still had several persons under consideration but would make up his mind early this week. He still could wait until after he himself is nominated for the presidency Wednesday night.

Wait For Aug. 26
One of those who heard the President Saturday, Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California, came to town Sunday and said that:

"I have a feeling the tremendous support that Hubert Humphrey has all over the United States will make him the vice president."

Brown has been mentioned as one of those in the running. His own analysis: "I don't think I am."

Brown was interviewed on a CBS television show, "Face the Nation."

On ABC's "Discovery" show, Humphrey said a question whether he would like to be vice president was one of the most interesting ones that was asked.

His answer was that: "If President Johnson—and that's an iffy one—if he were to ask me, and he hasn't, why I surely would be honored to work with him in any capacity. Why don't you see me about the 26th of August and we'll see how we stand at that time?"

That's the date of the nominating session here.

Houston Fights Sleep Sickness

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The battle in Houston against encephalitis and its carrier—the mosquito—was being waged on four fronts today as the number of suspected cases continued to climb.

On the clinical front, at Ben Taub Hospital, nine new patients were admitted as possibly having encephalitis or sleeping sickness. Confirmation was impossible pending completion of laboratory tests.

Dr. C. A. Pigford, city health officer, who is coordinating the all-out war against the disease, said that as of Sunday night 120 cases had been reported in the Houston area.

Of this number, only four cases had been confirmed by laboratory tests. Blood specimens taken from approximately 23 cases were in various stages of laboratory analysis.

Pigford said that in the last five weeks two deaths had been confirmed as due to encephalitis and 14 other deaths were under investigation.

commitments to freedom from Berlin to South Viet Nam," and to maintain a "balanced, versatile, powerful defense establishment capable of countering aggression across the entire spectrum of conflict, from nuclear confrontation to guerrilla subversion."

It reaffirmed the policy of "never negotiating from fear but never fearing to negotiate," and said that as a result of that policy—

"We are slowly but surely approaching the point where effective international agreements providing for inspection and control can begin to lift the crushing burden of armaments

New England Has Cold Rain

By The Associated Press

New England shivered in cold rain and fog today and thundershowers pelted an arc across the northern Plains.

Much of the nation enjoyed fair skies and the Weather Bureau said the outlook was good for widespread sunshine.

Hurricane Cleo, leaving 14 dead on the French island of Guadeloupe, sideswiped Puerto Rico's coast and headed toward southwestern Haiti and parts of the Dominican Republic.

Besides showers early today in Nebraska, Minnesota and Montana, rains fell in areas from southern Texas to the middle Atlantic Coast.

Temperatures, the weather bureau said, were nothing out of the ordinary.

Trade-In Driven Into Detroit From Argentina

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Three firemen from Buenos Aires, Argentina, are driving a 1926 model fire truck to Detroit to trade it in on a newer model.

The firemen are Carlos M. Poo, 28; Chief Leon Antico, 53, and Jim Gomez, 32. They said they left Buenos Aires Nov. 16 in the old fire truck and have been visiting fire stations on their transcontinental trip.

Chief Antico said he had turned down a $10,000 offer for the truck in Peru. The three spent the week end at St. Louis Engine House No. 31.

They will give the truck to a museum in Detroit. Chrysler Corp. will then give the Argentine firemen a new truck which Chief Antico said they would drive back to Buenos Aires.

Beer Drinkers Dry In Moscow

MOSCOW (AP) — There used to be a little place in Pushkin Square where you could buy beer, but they sell only milk there now.

It's almost as tough in Serov Street and just as bad in hadanov Street. Along these two drags there are only three places where you can buy the stuff.

For Moscow's beer supplies are drying up.

The paper Moskovskaya Pravda came up with this thirsty fact Sunday after a reporter made the equivalent of a pub crawl through the capital. He painted a pathetic picture.

"People are wandering around town looking for beer," he reported.

They go into cafes that should sell beer and they are told there is no beer. They get onto the end of a beer queue and then they are told: "It's no use staying in the queue, the beer's almost run out."

"Where is all the beer going?" the paper asked. "It's not being poured into the Moskva River."

There are two reasons for the shortage, the paper found: Moscow's four breweries are not brewing enough and cafes and stores do not take all the supplies breweries offer to them.

For beer drinkers it is a sad story.

Moscow really needs 300 or 400 stores that stock beer, and beer pavilions if the thirst of the population is to be quenched, the paper declared.

"We need bars as well, places where you can meet friends and eat the food you see in cook books," it added.

Arntzen Named Fair Chairman

The U. P. State Fair Board of Managers has a new chairman, elected at the annual meeting held in Escanaba on Saturday at the Fair's administration office.

He is Erling Arntzen, 1615 Lake Shore Drive, Escanaba, contractor and builder, who will head the Fair Board for the ensuing year. He succeeds Kemp H. Brown, Munising, who had been chairman this past year.

Elected vice chairman of the Fair Board was Mrs. Ruth G. Butler of Houghton.

In other actions the Fair Board set Aug. 17 through 22 as Fair Week for 1964. This is one day earlier than the Fair that closed yesterday.

The petition of certain exhibitors that the Fair's Fat Stock Auction be continued was tabled by the Board for consideration at a future meeting.

Arntzen, a native of Escanaba and long active in its business and civic life, is an off the backs of the people of the world.

"We are determined to continue all-out efforts through fully enforceable measures to halt and reverse the arms race and bring to an end the era of nuclear terror."

But the disarmament plank failed to satisfy a number of members of the 102-member platform committee. It was adopted only after long debate in a closed three-hour committee session Sunday over a proposal by Sen. Joseph S. Clark of Pennsylvania to write stronger disarmament promises.

Clark met defeat, 53-16, in seeking adoption of an amendment which he said would recommit the party to the disarmament stand of the late President John F. Kennedy.

FINAL POLISH TODAY

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — A Democratic party platform designed for broad party acceptance, even on civil rights and political extremism, gets its final polishing today.

It calls for fair and effective enforcement of the wide-ranging new Civil Rights Act, but does not recommend additional legislation. Northern supporters of the law and at least some Southerners indicated they could live with this formula.

Although much of the party statement still is officially secret, pending consideration by the full platform committee today, informants said the draft platform decries political extremism generally and also the tactics of some organizations, naming the John Birch Society, the Communist party and the Ku Klux Klan.

The platform committee's executive panel, working late into the night, decided to avoid controversy on two other subjects simply by omitting them from the platform. These were the issues of legislative reapportionment and prayer in schools.

The full committee, which already has approved foreign affairs and national defense portions of the platform, was called into session to consider the final, domestic portion today. The convention has the last say, but committee approval almost certainly means acceptance of the platform with little or no debate by the delegates, who open the party's national convention tonight.

The committee is working closely with the White House, and is understood to be heeding a plea by President Johnson to avoid convention floor battles.

The civil rights plank, it was understood, contemplates federal enforcement of the rights guarantees when and if necessary, but also speaks up for law and order in language designed to please critics of recent racially tinged riots.

appointee of Gov. George Romney, as is Mrs. Butler. Another member of the Fair Board recently appointed by Gov. Romney is Robert Davis of St. Ignace.

Hold-over members are Carl P. Hansen of Wallace in Menominee County and Brown of Munising.

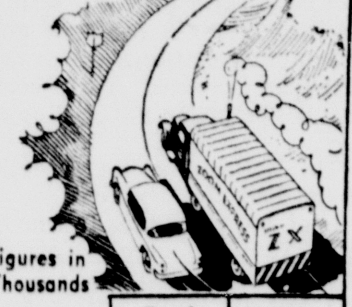

Arntzen is a past president of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce and of the Rotary Club, is active in Project Pride work including a school building for retarded children and an office for the Chamber of Commerce, and was one of the leaders in the establishment and maintenance of a Rotary Club camp for crippled and handicapped children.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., today supported State Sen. William G. Milliken of Traverse City for Republican nomination for lieutenant governor and Gov. George W. Romney for nomination to be re-elected.

Story In Press Brings Reunion

POWERS-SPALDING — A picture of Mrs. Dolly Wells, "Aunt Doll Wells," as she is known in the community, which appeared in the Escanaba Daily Press in May when she observed her 90th birthday, led to a reunion of a sister whom she hadn't seen in years.

The picture and a clipping were sent by Mr. and Mrs. John Kunkel of Cooks, family friends, to a sister of Mrs. Wells who lives in Phoenix, Ariz. From there the story was sent on to another sister, Mrs. O. A. (Florence) Scipio, of Lafayette, Ind. who had lost track of her sister and thought she had died years ago.

Tuesday, Aug. 18, the sisters were reunited. Mr. and Mrs. O. A. (Florence) Scipio, drove from Lafayette and spent the day with Mrs. Wells.

Rapid River To Show Cheese At Michigan Fair

Visitors to the 1964 Michigan State Fair at the Detroit Fairgrounds Friday, Aug. 28, through Sept. 7, will see more Michigan livestock and farm products than have ever been shown at the State Fair in its entire 115 year history. A record $141,000 in prizes will be awarded and a record crowd in excess of the 1,086,000 persons that set an all-time high mark in 1963 is expected.

Upper Peninsula exhibits will include the Rapid River cheese manufactured by the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. which has won so many honors at the State Fair.

Car-Deer Crash Reported In City

Deer that go bounding into the paths of automobiles on highways of the Upper Peninsula are not uncommon—but it is unusual to list a car-deer accident within the Escanaba city limits.

This happened Sunday at 9:30 p.m. on S. 23rd St. (M-35) near the municipal airport road and surprised the motorist, Dr. O. K. Bower of University of Arkansas faculty, Fayetteville. The deer was injured but escaped off the four-lane highway and into the brush. Dr. Bower's small car was not extensively damaged and on Sunday he continued his trip northward to Blind River, Ontario, Canada, where he has had a vacation cabin since 1938.

Foreign Policy Top Issue: Knox

Congressman Victor A. Knox (R-Sault Ste. Marie) is using the Congress recess this week while the Democrats are in national convention at Atlantic City to get in some campaigning. He was at the Upper Peninsula State Fair on Saturday, planned to visit the Petoskey area today and to return to Washington in midweek. "I hope," said Knox "that Congress can complete its work by Labor Day. My campaign itinerary will be determined as soon as there is a definite date for adjournment and my hope is that I will be able to visit each of the 22 counties in the new 11th District between adjournment and the Nov. 3 election.

"All reports I have received on the campaign are favorable, but I want to meet the people and consult with them on any problems they have with the federal government.

"The major campaign issue will be the lack of a firm position by the Democratic administration in foreign policy and undoubtedly there will be an airing of the Bobby Baker case, which certainly has a very bad odor, and of the Billie Sol Estes case, which cost the taxpayers millions of dollars."

Fair's Success Clouded But Not Ruined By Rain

The U. P. State Fair might have set new records this year if there had been a break in the weather, said Ray LaPorte, Fair secretary-manager.

Altogether there were bright spots and clouds, sunshine and rain, as part of the 1964 Fair's annual preliminary report.

The first three days of the Fair—days of partly-cloudy to sunny weather—brought the Fair's midway gross up 13 per cent and the parking gross 10 per cent over the same period the year before, LaPorte said.

But then the rains came and what had started off as a record-breaking Fair Week became far less promising. The rain virtually blanked out the Fair on Friday, there were problems on Saturday with rain, and by the end of the week parking was down 15 per cent for the week.

The midway gross was about $4,000 under that of a year ago—down to $52,007 from $56,000 in 1963.

Saturday, kids' day, would have been a good day as usual in the past except for the weather, which didn't cooperate, said LaPorte.

Friday's evening show moved from the Fairgrounds to the Junior High School auditorium; and on Saturday night it started to rain about 7 p.m. but the show went on anyway in the best tradition of the stage. The profit Saturday night was exactly $12 from the grandstand after the show was paid for.

LaPorte had high praise for the stage troupe and the maintenance people who throughout the latter part of Fair Week worked uncomplainingly in the occasional rain.

Sunday was a good day, although rain threatened and kept some people away. The afternoon grandstand had 4,546 paid admissions and in the evening 3,205 paid to see the Hell Drivers thrill show.

The amount of premiums paid out by the Fair was down by about $700 this year, dropping from a record $26,652 to $25,931. Dairy premiums increased and many other departments were up, including the beef department which was paid a total of $2,553 in premiums. The growing beef breeding program throughout the Peninsula was indicated by the increased entries in the department at the Fair. Poultry also showed a gain over 1963.

LaPorte said the sale of space on the midway and in the exhibition building was over that of last year.

Although it was an "interesting" week, a challenging and sometimes wet Fair Week, with many "bright spots" to offset the clouds.

Fitzharris Son In Fatal Crash

Michael John Fitzharris, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burleson M. Fitzharris, 1010 Washtenaw Ave., Ypsilanti, and a nephew of Judge James R. Fitzharris of Escanaba, was killed Saturday evening in an automobile accident in Livingston County.

He was born May 14, 1946, in Ann Arbor, and was a lifelong resident of Ypsilanti. He would have entered his senior year this fall at St. John's Catholic High School, where he was prominent in football and track, a member of the Varsity Club and a member of the Teen Club.

He also was a member of St. John's Church and of the Catholic Youth Organization.

Surviving besides his parents, are a brother, Timothy P., three sisters, Mary Louise, Elizabeth and Susan E., all at home, and a number of aunts, uncles and cousins. He was preceded in death by one brother and two sisters.

Funeral services were held at a Requiem High Mass at 10 a.m. today at St. John's Church with burial in St. John's Cemetery. Moore Funeral Home of Ypsilanti was in charge of arrangements.

Judge Fitzharris and Patricia and James, his daughter and son, went to Ypsilanti for the rites.

Delegates Don't Know Who'll Be No. 2 On Ticket

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The 5,260 delegates and alternates at this national convention have two things in common: they're Democrats and they don't know who Lyndon Johnson wants for vice president.

In fact, they don't even know if the President has made up his mind about a running mate, for he isn't saying. He isn't even hinting.

So the guessing game continues, with only one thing certain — by Wednesday night the mantle will have fallen on someone.

Like last week and the weeks before that, the names being mentioned most are Minnesota's two liberal Democratic senators, Hubert H. Humphrey and the professor he persuaded to go into politics, Eugene J. McCarthy.

They appeared separately Sunday night on NBC's "Meet the Press," said separately they had not discussed the vice presidency with Johnson and collectively left little doubt they wouldn't mind being his running mate.

Afterward, they received a telephone call from the White House, spoke separately to the President and appeared jubiliant. Quipped Humphrey: "Well, we're both in. He's going to take both of us."

The rumor mills also are working over these other names: California Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, Sen. Thomas J. Dodd of Connecticut, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut, Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York, Undersecretary of Commerce Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. and Gov. Matthew Welsh of Indiana.

Primary Campaign

Our primary election tourists all report a considerable voter apathy in Michigan about the Sept. 1 election. The voters will talk taxes, of course, but the way that mourners mention the late departed at a funeral, with a wistfulness, as though they wish they could do something about it, but doubt that their ideas will be much more than forensics.

The liveliest issue in the election, says Edward Meany, who has been campaigning for four years for the GOP nomination for U. S. Senator in Michigan, is civil rights. The candidate would no sooner introduce it than bring a skunk into church, but it's always there under the ripple of conversation and the voters would be glad to hear a candidate talk about it.

It's political hara kiri, however, and there's no being right about it. Feelings are so strong, both for and against, that the candidate who stands four-square in any direction on the issue is sure to get his compass boxed. The "white backlash" on full citizenship for Negroes is a serious covert force and politicians recognize it's size and anger and are anxious to sidestep it.

The issue should be one of morals and above politics in the sense that all parties agree upon it, but the Democratic fortunes in the current campaign have been affected by the Kennedys stand on civil rights and by GOP Nominee Barry Goldwater's playing footie with the issue. Detroit has been successful so far in the effort to avoid the race disorders that have occurred in other large cities, but it is a powder keg with serious problems like the proposed property transfer law to proscribe Negroes.

Michigan's primary has been strongly affected by the recent redistricting. The new legislative and congressional districts create serious problems of campaign coverage and exposure for the candidates. In the new 37th State Senatorial District two incumbent senators are opposing each other for the Republican nomination and they have a former mayor of Escanaba to keep them company in the contest.

In the new 11th Congressional District — which includes all of the Upper Peninsula and 7 counties in the Lower Peninsula — Congressman Victor A. Knox (R-Sault Ste. Marie) is without primary opposition since the death of Congressman John B. Bennett of Ontonagon (R) but Knox has a sizeable problem in just getting acquainted in one of the largest congressional districts in the United States.

It stretches from northern Wisconsin on Lake Superior to Drummond Island on Lake Huron and Canada, and thence south to Charlevoix on Lake Michigan. Knox used to have trouble getting over half of it in the old 11th District and even his problems aren't as great, with his considerable experience, as those of the three Democratic hopefuls who are contesting for nomination. Attys. Ray Clevenger of the Sault, Russell Bradley of Menominee and Theodore Alberts of Ironwood.

The efforts in the primary have been for exposure, to try to impress names upon the voters' memories so that when they have their moment of retrospect in the voting booth they experience total recall. All this will chance on Sept. 2 and the issues will emerge like the leaves in spring, charge and counter-charge will chase each other along the campaign trail like cats and dogs, and promises will flourish as though fertilizer had been supercharged for the jet age.

The Law's Delay

For the 12th year the Institute of Judicial Administration of New York University has taken the pulse of the nation's judicial system.

Diagnosis: Hardening of the legal arteries. Prognosis: Still critical but improving.

It takes an average of 17.6 months for a personal injury case to reach jury trial from the date on which a defendant files an answer to a complaint. Last year it was 18.6 months.

The annual survey is devoted to personal injury cases because they account for a substantial amount of litigation. Courts may be up to schedule in other areas, such as criminal or commercial calendars.

Not all the delays are to be blamed on the courts. Time has elapsed from the date of an injury to the institution of a suit, and more time to the filing of an answer to the complaint.

Even after a case is on the docket, "the law's delay" is often lawyers' delay. Many trial adjournments are caused by counsel who have not prepared their cases in time.

The Doctor Says:

Baby Needs Specialist

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt.

Who needs more special attention than a baby? Happily, even our smaller communities now have at least one pediatrician. So chances are that in a few hours after the birth of your child, your doctor will want a pediatrician to examine the infant.

If it is a first baby there is much to be gained by meeting with this specialist before the big day, eliminating the feeling that a total stranger is giving your most precious possession a working over. It will be helpful if this doctor knows of any allergies you or your husband may have.

It is better if he gets this information when you are relaxed rather than exhausted or drowsy from sedatives.

Your pediatrician will also want to know about any hereditary diseases that may complicate the life of your baby. He can often give reassurance about matters that have been worrying you, and he may advise you about the purchase and care of the proper type of equipment your baby will need.

It is both legitimate and wise to discuss in advance his fees, how often the baby should normally be seen for a checkup and what his policy is regarding telephone consultations. Although most doctors believe that breast feeding is best for your infant, your pediatrician is likely to be more forceful about this than your obstetrician and he may know ways to help you succeed in this venture.

If it is not a first baby, let your present pediatrician know you are expecting. He can make suggestions about running your home and give you valuable advice on preparing the older children for the new addition.

Q — When my baby was six months he had a smallpox vaccination. There was some question about a positive take. Should he have another smallpox vaccination before he starts to school?

A — For full protection against smallpox everyone should be vaccinated every three to five years. When there is any doubt about an initial take, this is doubly important.

"I Am the Law!"

Washington Comment

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — William Keisling, executive assistant to Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton, approached his boss in the closing hours of the San Francisco convention and asked for a brief vacation.

"Go ahead," said Scranton. "What do you want to do?"

Keisling replied: "Go to Mexico."

Remembering Keisling's authorship of the harsh letter the Scranton camp sent to Sen. Barry Goldwater on convention eve, Scranton remarked: "What are you going to do down there? Overthrow the government?"

A White House aide, strolling across town, was accosted by a friend who asked what he was up to these days.

The aide, usually bound up with serious matters, answered with a grin:

"Right now I'm co-ordinating barbecues for Luce."

At Hershey, Pa., newsmen, smarting under criticisms and rebuffs from Sen. Barry Goldwater's staff men, described present relations between the press and the senator's people as reflecting "controlled hostility."

Latest campaign phrase for the Democrats was coined by Minnesota Sen. Hubert Humphrey.

After scoring Republicans for branding Democratic programs as "creeping socialism," he ran off a batch of statistics showing U. S. economy expanding at a record pace.

"This isn't creeping socialism," Humphrey roared. "It's Leaping Capitalism!"

Rep. Joe Pool, D-Tex., voted against the Wilderness Bill recently, then hurriedly left the floor to keep an appointment.

Later, he bumped into a colleague and asked what the final tally on the bill was.

"374 to 1," the colleague answered. "Some so-and-so voted against it."

Pool quickly and silently walked away.

Speculation on the identity of the Democratic vice presidential nominee is invading all quarters in Washington. At a recent press conference, Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz was asked:

"As an old friend of Hubert Humphrey, when do you expect that the President will announce that he will be his running mate?"

Wirtz shot back: "As an old friend of both Hubert Humphrey and the President, I am not going to answer that question."

A secretary from the office of Rep. Morris Udall, D-Ariz., was proudly sporting one of her boss' new campaign buttons the other day. Unfortunately, she was wearing it upside down.

Right side up, it simply says "MO." But turn it upside down and it reads "OW."

Big gripe of Washington science reporters is that in many cases they can't be as specific as their sources would like them to be.

"The scientists want you to write to the sixth decimal place," says one newsmen, "in stories where your editors tell you to use round numbers."

Open Letter

To Lyndon B. Johnson

President of the United States

Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. President:

I hope I am mistaken, but I think your ill-advised and ill-timed Civil Rights Law will raise more hell than the ill-starred Prohibition Law did in the 1920's, for many reasons.

One will suffice.

It is against the Creator's Law. God created man a free agent. "Chose ye this day whom ye will serve," and every man has a God given right to choose his associates, and any man-made law which denies me that choice and compels me to associate with any person or persons against my will is violating the law of the Creator.

Personally I am an integrationist. I would just as soon sit down to dinner with a respectable Negro as not. On the other hand there are many white persons whom no law could compel me to associate with.

In Knoxville, Tenn., I once went with William J. McGlothlin, then personnel director of the TVA, to a mixed meeting of white men and Negroes. No attention was paid to the color line, and I met many Negroes whom I deemed it a privilege to know.

In 1939-40 Rev. Robert B. Giffen was doing campus work at various colleges and I spent a week with him on the campus of Fisk University where I met many Negroes of fine character with whom I was proud to associate.

And, waiting for a train in Ft. Lauderdale, I sat down on the platform curb and talked with a Negro baggage man for a half hour. He was very intelligent and well-informed. I have also talked with Egyptians, Arabs, Chinese, and Indians on their own level. I think folks who draw the color line are only restricting themselves.

But, in every race of men on earth — black, white, brown, red or yellow, there are different strata of character and morality. Good and bad. In a top strata, the "elite", intelligence is above the average in kindly, good and considerate people, ready to help others, superior people with whom it is an honor to associate.

Then a strata which might be called the "middle class", not so gifted perhaps, but in character and morality just as good, kindly and considerate toward others. This class constitutes the great majority.

BUT, UNFORTUNATELY, in every race there is a bottom strata which might be called the "dregs" of humanity — just naturally bad — thieves, liars, crooks, loafers, cheaters, trouble makers, whose "inferiority complex" makes them very jealous, envious and hateful toward decent, respectable and law abiding people.

Now, comes your so-called Civil Rights Law which compels people to associate against their will, and immediately this bottom strata — the "dregs of society" rises up and says — "We're just as good as you are, the law says so, and you've got to treat us accordingly," and they stage riots, and create disorder, and thrust themselves in where they are not wanted — which no self respecting person will do — in their attempts to show everybody that "we are just as good as you."

The trouble with America today is that we are fast becoming a "government of men," and not of Law.

Ann Landers

Parents Drink, Beat Children

Dear Ann Landers: The people next door drink a lot. For two years we have put up with their endless fighting and hollering.

My husband and I don't care what the two adults do to one another but we are deeply concerned about their four young children. We've heard the children screaming at all hours of the day and night. Last week while working in the yard the 7-year old girl came over to talk to me. She was wearing a short-sleeved blouse and I saw bruises and strap-marks on her arms. I asked her what had happened. She said, "Mama hit me because I was bad and took two extra cookies."

Last night the 17-month old boy was taken to the hospital with a cut on his hand. This morning the mother told me he had fallen out of the high chair. This hardly seems likely at midnight.

We believe these parents come home drunk and beat their children. What should we do about it? My brother (who is a lawyer) advised us not to get involved and to mind our own business. How about it?—A MOTHER, TOO.

Dear Mother, Too: One of the symptoms of the sickness of our society is the way people are "minding their own business" these days. It is appalling, shocking and inhuman.

People who turn their heads because they don't want to get "involved" are worse than gutless — they are heartless.

You and your husband should report the neighbors to the juvenile authorities at once. They will investigate and determine whether or not the parents have been abusing the children.

Thousands of little ones are maimed and crippled every year by brutal parents because neighbors (like you) who could put an end to the brutality continue to "mind their own business."

Dear Ann Landers: Our daughter Penelope was invited to an elegant party which took place last night. She was terribly excited about it since it was her first formal.

Penelope laid out her gown, shoes, purse and gloves three days in advance.

This morning she came to the breakfast table with a long face. I asked what was the matter. She said, "There were four gowns at the party exactly like mine — two in other colors, but it was horrible. Lots of the girls whispered and giggled about it."

Penelope's gown was not inexpensive. The price was $35. What should I have said to my daughter? Frankly, I was stumped. — Wordless.

Dear Wordless: You should have told your daughter that in tense or embarrassing situations a sense of humor can be a life-saver.

A few years ago Mrs. Henry Ford and the Duchess of Windsor appeared at the same affair in identical gowns — both fabulously expensive "originals." If it could happen to them it can happen to anybody. And so what?

Confidential to Should I or Shouldn't I? It's your nose and your life. It's how you feel that counts and you don't feel good about it, so go ahead and make the alteration.

Confidential to Full of Hops: If your friend finds comfort and strength in the philosophy, why ridicule it or attempt to "open her eyes to reality?" Maybe it isn't rational to you but if it helps her, it's good.

NOT PRACTICAL OR JOKE. LOUISVILLE (AP)—The old wisecrack that a car won't run on water is true. Frank Hartley doesn't think it's funny, either.

He drove into a station and told the attendant to fill the gas tank but the car didn't go very far.

Investigation disclosed that a hard rain had flooded a storage tank at the station and it was water, not gasoline, that was put in Hartley's car.

Amends were duly made but there were still a few frayed nerves over the incident.

Goldwater Calls For Voluntary Price Supports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater carries his views on campaign issues to leaders of business and industry today after a word to the farmer: "Price support programs should be voluntary."

The Republican presidential nominee planned to fly to New York for a private reception and dinner with business men and industrial leaders.

A spokesman said Goldwater wanted to outline his stand on foreign and domestic issues, and answer businessmen's questions.

No guest list was announced. The afternoon reception is being sponsored by Percy Douglas, president of the Otis Elevator Co. Hosts for the dinner are George Champion, chairman of the Chase Manhattan Bank and Ralph Cordiner, retired chairman of the General Electric Co. Goldwater turned his attention to agriculture Sunday in a statement declaring the goal of the Republican party is "a free and prosperous American agriculture with a minimum of federal controls and interference."

"The Republican party is the farmers' party," Goldwater said.

"We will resist all efforts to make the farmer dependent, for his economic survival, upon either compensatory payments by the federal government or upon the whim of the secretary of agriculture."

"Price supports should be designed to help farmers achieve orderly marketing within the framework of our dynamic American market system. Price support programs should be voluntary and should be established for specific commodities in order to widen markets, ease production controls, and help achieve increased family income," Goldwater said.

Goldwater denounced the program for wheat farmers put into effect this year.

He said the Republicans would repeal what he called "the administration's wheat certificate 'bread tax' on consumers, so burdensome to low income families and overwhelmingly rejected by farmers."

"This program has become a nightmare under massive mismanagement of the Johnson-Freeman administration," Goldwater said, referring to the President and Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

Beatles Sneak In At 3:55 A. M.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Beatles sneaked into town at 3:55 a.m., Sunday eluding 100 teen-agers, mostly girls, who had screamed all night for a glimpse of the British rock 'n' rollers.

And the singing group's exit via Los Angeles International Airport back door didn't go over with some of the girls.

One screaming fan turned her hysteria to anger, shouting: "I hate you! I hate you, you swine!"

But the tight security measures were not of the Beatles' choosing.

Ringo Starr, the one the girls seem to go for most, told a newsman:

"Our fans never bother us but they seem to bother the police and other people. We're used to wild receptions. In fact, we get quite a jolt out of it."

The bobbed-hair singers only spent six hours in Vancouver — 29 minutes on stage — but screaming youths broke down two gates to join 20,000 screaming fans inside the Pacific National Exhibition.

The group is sleeping at the undisclosed home of a television executive prior to their concert Sunday night at the 18,700-seat Hollywood Bowl where an estimated 4,000 more are expected to crowd in.

A WEED EATER is lowered gently into its new Florida home, a weed-choked canal.

NETTED MANATEE—slightly drippy.

THE SEA COW gets a tidbit, some lettuce, at a Titusville, Fla., animal farm.

Florida's flood control canals are choked with weeds. Manatees eat nothing but weeds and are threatened with extinction. The Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District has launched a three-year study to see if the problems don't have one simple solution—put manatees in the canals where, theoretically they will eat all the weeds and flourish. Five of the aquatic creatures, known as sea cows, were captured and put to work. The biggest was a female 11 feet, 4 inches long and weighing 2,170 pounds. Scientists will watch from the banks, hoping the manatees become fat and happy.

Girl, 24, Joins Chicago Police

CHICAGO (AP) — Coeds who are wont to calculate the male-to-female ratio might envy Virginia Rakocinski's situation: 300 to 1 and she's the one.

But the subjects she studies are a far cry from the usual coed fare — jujitsu, narcotics, criminal law and pistol shooting.

Miss Rakocinski, 24, of suburban Evanston, is enrolled in the Chicago police training division's 13-week course with 300 men.

The attractive brunette is the first woman to go through the course with men.

Female trainees usually attend the school in a separate class. This time Miss Rakocinski was the only girl candidate and it was judged impractical to set up a special class for her.

Despite the ratio, she hasn't been dating.

"I'm here to study," she said, "besides, don't forget many of the men are married."

Miss Rakocinski, a shapely 5-foot-5, 120-pounder, said she decided to become a policewoman "because I wanted to do something very different and challenging."

She already has met one challenge: she topped 42 applicants to win a policewoman's job on the Skokie police department. Skokie is a suburb served by the Chicago police training school.

School's Easier For The Healthy

Everything's easier if your child feels top notch. Try to make sure he begins school feeling his best. Start with a complete examination by your physician and talk over with him the best way for you to help about correcting defects or deficiencies. If treatment involves something like glasses, it's wise to let the child get used to them well ahead of school opening. If a longer period of time is required, it's probably still best to start corrective treatment early, because adjusting to a handicap may be more upsetting when the child is also adjusting to school.

Before entering school, every child should be adequately immunized against smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, and polio. Check with your physician. Booster shots may be needed.

Have your dentist go over your child's teeth, too. For a well shaped mouth and healthy permanent teeth, take care of "baby teeth." Teach your child to brush his teeth properly after eating . . . or to rinse out his mouth after eating if brushing is not possible.

Teach your child to wash his hands and face before eating and after going to the toilet. Work toward having him do these things unassisted and without prompting, but don't be discouraged (or surprised) if he usually forgets. Keep your child away from people with colds. . . and return the favor. Supply tissues and show him how to cover his mouth and nose when he sneezes or coughs.

This is a good time to go over your child's diet. We are usually inclined to relax about the eating habits of a child old enough to "eat anything." Five and six-year olds, however, need some supervision about eating since they are growing rapidly as well as using up lots of energy.

They are beginning to be influenced by what their friends and television favorites eat or don't eat, and they hardly ever like to stop playing for a sit-down meal. Plan to include in your child's daily meal pattern: milk, a green and a yellow vegetable, fruits, bread and cereals, butter or margarine, an egg or cheese, meat or fish.

Law Requires Immunization

A law passed by the Michigan Legislature requires all children enrolling in school for the first time in Michigan to submit a signed statement on immunizations.

The parents will have a choice of one of four statements. The first states that the child has been adequately immunized against smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough, and polio. This statement must be signed by the parent and a physician.

If this statement is not signed because the child has not been immunized at the time of entrance to school, there are three other possible choices. The parents may indicate that they are going to have the immunization done by the private physician, or that they will request the local health department to do this, or that they will not have the immunizations because of religious or other convictions.

The law applies to all children enrolling in public, private, parochial or denominational school in Michigan for the first time.

This law was passed for the purpose of protecting the health of all school children against the spread of contagious disease. It was felt that a signed statement at the time of entrance to school would serve as a check point to be sure that the child either was immunized or would be during that first year of school.

Smallpox vaccination is usually done in the first year of life and it is necessary for a child to be revaccinated approximately every four or five years. At the time of the revaccination the child usually will not develop another scar, because of the immunity of the first scar. If any child entering school has never had a vaccination for smallpox, this should be done prior to the school year.

Diphtheria, whooping cough, and tetanus are commonly known as the triple injections, and these are usually given combined in the first year of life. Booster doses should be received at approximately three year intervals also. If a child entering school has not had a booster within the three years prior to starting he should receive one at that time.

The recommended schedule for polio vaccine for protection against that disease is to give two doses one month apart followed by a third dose seven months later. Following the third dose a fourth dose should be given, which serves as a booster, approximately one year or more after the third dose. To be adequately immunized against polio a child entering school should have the fourth dose of vaccine if it has been a year or more since the last injection.

TELEPHONE INSTALLER HELPS A MOTHER AND HER SICK CHILDREN

Michigan Bell Installer Richard Bruske was on a routine assignment. His job was to remove a telephone from a house where the family was moving out. But instead of finding the family moving, he discovered the mother frantically trying to care for her three children who were sick with the flu.

The father had driven their car to the new home several hundred miles away to prepare for the family's arrival. Just before leaving, he had called Michigan Bell to cancel the telephone service, so the phone had been disconnected at the central office.

As a result, the mother was unable to telephone a doctor or even send for food. The nearest house with a telephone was nearly a mile away.

Richard Bruske immediately drove to the closest phone booth and called his foreman to reconnect the woman's telephone at the central office. Then he drove back to the house to make sure the phone was working and that the family would be all right.

The mother was able to call a doctor, order food, and notify her husband.

Installer Richard Bruske's helpfulness in this situation was not unusual. You see, with Michigan Bell, friendly service is a way of life.

Press Leads In Freedom Work, Ike Declares

By BOYD LEWIS
GETTYSBURG, Pa.—(NEA)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower doesn't want to name the "sensation-seeking columnists and commentators" he criticized at the Republican National Convention, but he wants it known that he has the highest respect for the press as an institution.

He made this clear in answer to a request by this writer for clarification of his widely discussed comment, which touched off a raucous demonstration against newspaper reporters and broadcasters at the San Francisco Cow Palace. The following day Richard Nixon was cheered at the convention for remarks critical of the press.

General Eisenhower suggested that persons who took his words to be critical of the "bulk of the press personnel" might have been motivated by "some feelings of guilt." He did not spell these out.

The press, General Eisenhower said, ranks with the school system "in its importance as a defender of our freedom and our free institutions." Press and schools, he said, are "two indispensable factors in a self-governing society."

I wrote to General Eisenhower on July 24 asking if you would be willing to clarify a statement made during your address to the Republican Convention in San Francisco which dismayed me and many of my colleagues. It is your reference to 'sensation-seeking columnists and commentators.'

CARS IN EAST GERMANY

BERLIN (AP)—Communist East Germany reckons to have a million automobiles by 1970, a private Western intelligence agency reported.

Information Bureau West was quoting a report of the Transport Ministry. The ministry experts also estimated that the number would double by 1980.

A million autos would be one for every 17 inhabitants compared with one for every 8 inhabitants of West Germany now.

Low production and sky-high prices make autos difficult to buy in East Germany, which has some of the emptiest roads in Europe.

Defense Chief Gives Up Climb Of Matterhorn

ZERMATT, Switzerland (AP)—U.S. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara abandoned an attempt Saturday to climb the 14,701-foot Matterhorn because of heavy snow.

Instead, McNamara and his teen-age son, Robert Craig, left the Belvedere Mountain Lodge for an excursion to the Solvay Refuge below the summit. They were accompanied by four American Alpinists and six Swiss Alpine guides.

But the snow was so deep 600 feet from the refuge, the party came back down. McNamara returned to Zermatt and said he would leave for the United States.

McNamara's wife, Margaret; Mrs. Willard Goodwin of Los Angeles, and another guide accompanied them for 300 feet but returned because of the deep snow.

More than 15 inches of snow fell during the night. Scores of photographers and newsmen were on hand for the scheduled ascent.

"Never was a party so well equipped for a no-climb," McNamara joked.

McNamara climbed the Matterhorn nine years ago, but for his son it would have been the first ascent.

Whose Income Rose In July?

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Personal income hit a new high in July—officially. And this leads many to wonder: Whose income rose?

Many persons reading the government report that personal incomes went up $1.5 billion to a record annual rate of $490.8 billion noted little, if any, change in their own income. Most families probably found the bills just as hard to meet in July as in June.

But the government deals in totals rather than in individual cases. And it says the totals went up. They didn't climb as fast as they were rising in the early months of 1964 but still got a bit higher on a seasonally adjusted basis.

The government always adjusts such figures to take account of the usual variations at different periods of the year. And in many lines incomes change markedly from season to season. Without seasonal adjustment the charts of many government statistics would have more of a roller-coaster look than the steady rise that most show now.

The greater part of the July gain appears due to the rise in the number of employed. It was the new incomes that boosted the total rather than any notable change in the individual take of those already on the payroll.

Others who are better off than awhile back also include those who have benefited from increased dividend payments by many corporations, and those who cashed in on the six months-rise in prices of many stocks.

The biggest share of the July rise in income totals was in the wages and salaries division. This went up, at an annual rate of $1.2 billion to a total of $331.3 billion. Factory payrolls alone increased $200 million in July, putting the annual rate at $102.9 billion.

The Department of Commerce says that farm income slipped by $200 million in July to an annual rate of $17 billion.

Since personal incomes are the chief ingredient in the nation's economic mix, the prospects are good for a tasty dish this autumn—and hopefully, for at least the first part of 1965.

The Rev. Meldon Crawford performed the 2 p. m. double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Larsen of Homestead, Fla., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant L. Hess, 1602 Dakota Ave., Gladstone.

Mrs. Wallace Cameron was organist of the wedding service and Paul Cowen was soloist. The newlyweds were feted at a reception for guests from points in Connecticut and Wisconsin, Marquette, Detroit, Escanaba, Gladstone, and neighboring communities, held at the Dutch Mill, Rapid River.

Child's Health Major Factor In Education

By ANITA KOTILA, R. N. (Escanaba Area Public School Nurse)

Is your child physically ready for school? Does he hear well? Is his vision normal? How good is his muscle coordination? Is he protected against communicable diseases?

The answers to these questions are important to the future of the child who will be enrolled in school this fall.

Early physical examinations are encouraged for the beginning kindergarten child in an effort to detect, as far as possible, physical abnormalities before he starts school. It is recommended that the physical examination include a vision check, a hearing test, urine test for albumin and sugar, and a general physical examination. The state legislature passed a law in 1960 stating that all children enrolling in any public, private, parochial or denominational school in Michigan for the first time shall submit either a statement signed by a physician that they have been immunized against small pox, diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis (whooping cough) and poliomyelitis or a statement signed by one parent or guardian to the effect that the child has not been immunized because of religious or other convictions.

Vision Screening
Parents are encouraged to have the school child's immunizations completed before school starts in September. Students who missed getting booster doses due during school clinics last year should have this done in order to have continued protection. An accurate immunization record should be kept at home on each child. Vaccine to protect your child against measles is available. Ask your family physician about it and have your youngster protected. Serious complications can result from the measles.

Good vision plays an important part in a student's ability to learn. Poor vision is often responsible for a child's behavior—he may be uncooperative and appear slow to learn. Early discovery of certain eye defects is necessary to save vision. The Michigan Department of Health recommends a special vision screening test for 3 and 4 year olds to detect impaired vision so that the child can be referred to an eye specialist in time to prevent permanent vision loss.

Such a screening program was offered in Delta County in June. To children who have certain vision impairment the school vision screening program comes too late to help them.

Wear Those Glasses
Students wearing glasses are encouraged to return to their eye specialist at the intervals he recommends to safeguard their vision. There are high school students who should be wearing glasses at all times but who prefer to wear them in their pockets. This is a poor practice.

Good hearing is essential for learning. Hearing problems may be temporary if given early care. The family physician or an otologist should be consulted without delay if hearing impairment or ear trouble occurs.

Among the health problems that turn up each school year to cause discomfort are the plantar warts on the sole of the foot. There is some question of its spreading in gym classes and shower rooms, although effort is made to control this. Parents are urged to check their children's feet periodically for this painful growth and medical advice should be sought when it is first discovered.

Watch for health screening programs offered through the schools. Be prompt at signing permission slips and returning them to the schools.

CASUAL TALKER
JUNCTION CITY, Kan. (AP)—Police investigated a woman's report that she saw a man's body lying in a public phone booth.

Envoy Recalled From Australia

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — William Cullen Battle, U.S. ambassador to Australia, leaves for the United States next Monday. He told reporters he is returning because the White House wants him for "some significant job" in the presidential campaign.

Staebler Urges Partnership Of Govt., Industry

Michigan Democrats' choice for governor told a luncheon meeting of 130 Democrats at the House of Ludington on Saturday that "We've got to get an effective partnership between government and private enterprise in Michigan."

"This year," said Congressman-at-large Staebler (D - Ann Arbor) "we have a choice between the administration and Republicans in Lansing and Washington who have not demonstrated any capacity for working together. (Governor George Romney and GOP Nominee Senator Barry Goldwater.) "We need cooperation and not a pair pitted together or a pair in complete understanding, including a presidential nominee who would turn the clock back 35 years and who shoots from the hip in calling national programs."

"Governor Romney said here this week that he sees a change of attitude in the Upper Peninsula. I don't see any need for a change of attitude in the Upper Peninsula. It is the area with the greatest initiative in the state. What it has needed has just been forthcoming in the last few years. The population has been going down and not until the Kennedy Administration did we have the tools to do something in the Upper Peninsula and then its fine attitude had something to work with — capital."

White Pine Loan
"Capital has been pumped out of the area for generations and not much pumped back. There was a big transfusion of government capital to get the White Pine copper mine going. The owners put in several million and there was a $50 million federal loan and now the mine is the second largest employer in the Upper Peninsula."

"We don't need only big industries, but also small ones and small industries have been aided at Newberry, Wakefield, Copper Harbor and elsewhere. Things are beginning to show up in sufficient volume to show that something is being done."

"We need a combination of

Youths Arrested On Game Charge, One Pleads Guilty

Conservation officers arrested four 17-year-old youths from Milwaukee on Sunday for illegal possession of venison. They are all presently in the Delta County jail.

Arrested were: William L. Burke, Terry Lee Schmidt, Ricky Schroeder and Gary Thompson. Officers say they had spent the weekend at the Dennis Thompson camp on the Stonington Peninsula.

The Conservation Officers were investigating an abandoned car on County Road K-10 early Sunday morning and found a dressed doe in the immediate vicinity. They checked the car and found spent shells, hunting knives and blood on the car.

The officers apprehended the youths when they returned to the car. All four youth were arraigned before Justice Ross Davis. Schroeder pleaded guilty and was ordered to pay a fine of $100 with costs of $7.30. He was unable to pay and was taken to jail.

The other three pleaded not guilty to the charge and were unable to furnish bonds of $100 each and are in jail pending trial on August 27 at 2 p.m.

Following the arraignment officers obtained a search warrant for the Thompson camp where they found a quantity of venison and three shot guns which were seized.

U.P. Alcoholism Services Are Project's Goal

The State Board of Alcoholism met in Escanaba at the House of Ludington today after a Sunday night session which heard expressions from Upper Peninsula persons on how the $80,000 grant from the U.S. Public Health Service for a U.P. aid to alcoholics project can be expended most effectively.

The grant from the National Institute of Mental Health is for three years of operation of a study by the State Board of Alcoholism on how the existing agencies dealing with alcoholism in the Upper Peninsula can be used most effectively in solving the problem of alcoholism. The Public Health Service unit hopes to learn from the study things which it can use widely in its campaign against alcoholism.

The existing agencies dealing with alcoholism include: prosecutors and lawyers, the clergy, doctors of medicine and specialists like psychiatrists and psychologists, judges of probate, who can send alcoholics to Newberry State Hospital for treatment of alcoholism; welfare departments, whose clients have alcoholism as a major problem; city police, sheriff officers, state police, hospitals, family counseling services, etc.

The alcoholic is a pest who exhausts the affection and finally the patience of his family and of public officials and as a result he gets passed along like a bad penny, from agency to agency. It is to break this chain of temporary treatment and incarceration and attempt more rehabilitation of the alcoholic that an effort, largely educational, will be made by the State Board of Alcoholism in the Upper Peninsula in the three year project now starting.

Coordinator On Job
Educational coordinator for the project is John Backman of Escanaba. He will work with all the agencies dealing with the problem of alcoholism and bring in resource persons from the State Board of Alcoholism and other agencies to work for more understanding of alcoholism and more efforts to rehabilitate chronic alcoholics.

The review of the Upper Peninsula problem by the

Swainson And Mrs. Jeffrey Committeemen

The Michigan delegation at the Democratic national convention in Atlantic City met for the first time Sunday night and elected former Governor John B. Swainson as national committeeman and re-elected Mrs. Mildred Jeffrey of Detroit as national committeewoman.

Swainson succeeds Congressman-at-large Neil Staebler, the Democratic nominee for governor, who nominated him, with a second by former Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Swainson becomes federal patronage dispenser with his election.

The Michigan Democratic convention in June voted to seat the Mississippi Freedom Democrat Party at the national convention. Staebler, heading the Michigan delegation, said that Congressman Charles Diggs and Mrs. Mabel Stul, of Owosso on the credential committee are working for a satisfactory solution of the Mississippi delegation squabble.

make the information more meaningful.

A tour of the building will follow the information period. Upon completion of the tour, students will return to the auditorium for a question and answer period. The program will terminate at noon.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

board reported that alcoholism is a big problem here. "If the people were only aware of it," said Ralph Daniel, board secretary, "you have need for an institution like the Brighton Hospital downstate. But if you set it up today 6 months later it would die for lack of patients. But that wouldn't mean that they aren't here."

While alcoholism is reported accepted by the American Medical Association as a disease it is not so regarded by all physicians. They exercise personal opinions about the problem and these color their reaction to it.

It is not necessary, said Dr. Harold Cay, medical director of the Dow Chemical Co., and chairman of the State Board of Alcoholism, in this age of specialized medical practice for all physicians to devote their efforts to treatment of alcoholism. It can become a specialty in a community, with patients referred to a "specialist" in the problem, he said. Some doctors are more interested in it than others and such patients tend to gravitate to such doctors.

Hospital Patients
The U.P. hospitals represented said they admit alcoholic patients if they are not disturbed patients, for whom most U.P. hospitals lack facilities or staff. They reported that doctors are reluctant to identify alcoholism in the records because of legal hazards and that the report of 10 patients with alcoholic problems admitted in 18 months to a U.P. hospital is not a true picture, that the actual count is higher.

Alcoholics Anonymous is one of the best friends that the alcoholism victim has and its representatives reported that U.P. law enforcement officers cooperated with it very well.

Daniel said "The old concept that alcoholism affects only weak individuals persists and may take a generation to correct. Insurance companies need some education in the problem. They don't pay for treatment of alcoholism so it's put down as something else. The insurance companies would probably save money if they accepted alcoholism for treatment under their hospital coverage policies."

Eskymos Preparing For Menominee Opener

Seventeen Lettermen Back From Last Year

Seventeen returning letter winners are among the 59 candidates for the Escanaba Eskymo football varsity squad which is drilling twice daily at the EHS gridiron.

Coach Jerry Cvengros is running his charges through drills at 9:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. and capped last week's sessions with an intrasquad scrimmage Saturday in which all players saw considerable action.

In addition to the varsity group, there are 56 candidates for the jayvee squad. The original turnout numbered about 100 candidates.

The Eskymos will travel to Manistique Friday evening for a scrimmage session with the Emeralds, starting at 6:30 at Hall Stadium.

Cvengros is pleased with the progress of his squad thus far. "We have a good situation with tough competition at every position, which makes for interesting workouts," he former University of Wisconsin lineman pointed out.

The Eskymos are coming off a fine 7-1 season record last year.

Joining Cvengros on the varsity coaching staff with Harold Johnson this year is Dick Olivanti who has been with the jayvees in recent years. Phil Hiney has been named assistant jayvee coach to work with Frank Miketnac.

Back in the Escanaba camp this fall are lettermen Jerry Hanson, Pete Benson, Bob Haack, Jim Clairmont, Dave Boileau, Chuck Brookes, Carl Olson, Brent Baum, Bill Sarnowski and Steve Oman who were regulars last fall.

Other returning letter winners are Bill Boyce, Mike Gaffner, Steve Johnson, Paul Neumeier, Terry Lindstrom, Mike Olson and Carl Olson.

Floyd Eade is head manager with Chuck Fisher assistant manager and Brent Kleiman student trainer.

The Eskymos will compete as an independent this fall after dropping from membership in the Great Lakes Conference last year.

Cvengros, in his third year as head coach of the Eskymos, will guide his team in a nine game schedule this fall, opening Sept. 5 at Menominee.

The complete slate: Sept. 5—Menominee there; Sept. 12—Ishpeming here; Sept. 19—Negaunee there; Sept. 26—Stephenson here; Oct. 2—Marquette there; Oct. 10—Soo here; Oct. 17—Iron Mountain there; Oct. 24—Kingsford here; Oct. 31—Preble there.

Paul Hornung

Hornung Stars As Green Bay Rips Chicago

By ART DALEY

MILWAUKEE—The Packers defeated the Bears' podnerful defense with 21 Paul Hornung points for an impressive 21 to 7 victory over their traditional rival in the 15th annual Shrine classic before a record crowd of 46,920 in County Stadium Saturday night.

Hornung scored a touchdown in each of the first three periods and the Bears scored in the fourth quarter on an eight-yard pass from Rudy Bukich to Gary Barnes.

The blond bomber was at his best in the third game of his comeback from a year's layoff.

He caught an 18-yard pass from Bart Starr for his first TD in the first quarter, ran 11 yards for his second in the second quarter, and then slashed three yards to his left for TD No. 3 in the third period. Hornung added the three extra points.

The Bears were limited to two first downs by a Ray Nitschke-ignited Packer defense in the first half but they picked up eight in the second.

The visitors, who beat the Packers twice last year, controlled the ball only once all night — when they drove 80 yards for their TD. And they got help on that drive on an interference penalty on Willie Davis.

The Packers worked up 295 yards, including 173 rushing, while the Bears settled for 140. The Bays had 22 first downs, the Bears 10.

Hornung finished with 58 yards rushing, tops for both teams, caught one pass for 18 yards and, of course, piled up 21 points. Jim Taylor, out last week with a back injury, ran 15 times for 47 yards.

The Bears lost two of their best players early. Ron Bull, their top left half, pulled a muscle in practice and never played. Mike Ditka was hurt on the first play and stayed out for the night. The Packers held out Tom Moore due to a shoulder injury.

Hornung and Nitschke were chosen as the game's most valuable by press, radio and TV after the game.

Munshaw Wins Seagull Race

John Munshaw won the Seagull class sailing race held Sunday off the mouth of the Escanaba Yacht Harbor.

Following Munshaw across the finish line were Fran Anderson, Bill Boyce, Bill Stenbol and Bill Moras.

Boyce won the second series of races with 13 points, followed by Munshaw 12½, Anderson 9, Moras 2, Larry Girard 2 and Stenbol 2.

Bill's Bar Is Playoff Champ

Bill's Bar of Rapid River captured the Central League softball playoff championship by upsetting season champion Ensign 8-3 Sunday.

Fran Lancour was the winning pitcher and paced his mates at the plate with two doubles and a single. Jim Johnson stroked a homer for the champs. Maki and Wolf worked the mound for Ensign.

Mat Veterans Are Favorites

NEW YORK, N. Y. (AP) — Three men who were members of the United States 1960 Olympic wrestling team have been tabbed as the men to beat in the tryouts for the 1964 team starting today. And there's a question about when and how each will perform.

Eliot Gray Simons, an army man, wrestled in the 114.5 pound class at Rome in 1960. This year he won the national AAU title at 125.5 pounds. He may decide to drop to his previous weight class.

Russ Camilleri and Dan Brand, both of the San Francisco Olympic Club, won both freestyle and Greco-Roman tournament at Rome and Brand, 213.5 pounds, finished sixth in the Olympic freestyle wrestling.

Another double champion on the list is heavyweight Jim Raschke, former University of Nebraska matman now in the army.

The three double winners could compete in both divisions of the tryouts but in the Tokyo Olympics then can wrestle only in one.

Rosemurgys Win Father & Son Golf Honors

Percy and Jim Rosemurgy captured the annual father and son golf tournament at the Escanaba Country Club Sunday with a net 76.

Three teams tied for second were Don and Bob Feller, George and Bruce Douglas, Art and Don Goulais, with 78s.

The Mr. and Mrs. tournament, postponed earlier because of bad weather, will be played Sunday, Aug. 30.

Rock Football Exams Slated For Thursday

ROCK — Coach Roman Gill has issued a call for all Rock High School football candidates to report for physical examinations on Thursday, Aug. 27.

The player bus will leave the high school at 8:30 a. m. Gill stated that this will be the only time the candidates will receive their medical exams free of charge.

The first Little Giant practice session will be held Monday, Aug. 31, at 5 p. m. Equipment will be issued when the physical examinations are given.

Rock will open the 1964 season Saturday, Sept. 18, with a Wolverine Conference game at Plover.

Lettermen expected back this season are Mike Kulack, John Norden, Mike Ruotsala, Steve Rabideau, George Micheau and Robert Maki. Other members of the squad expected back this year are Jeff Carlson, Dennis Verbrogghe, Raymond Leach, Robert Mankiewicz, Bill Kaukola and Jim Halmecja.

Lost through graduation were Bill Johnson, Ed Linjala, Don LaCrosse and Todd Kaminen while Donald Delmont, Clarence Johnson and David Vertanen have transferred to another school district.

Chicago Bears Land Arnett

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP) — Los Angeles Rams halfback Jon Arnett, a former all-pro selection and eight year veteran, was traded to the Chicago Bears Sunday for two offensive linemen and a defensive halfback.

For Arnett, the Rams got offensive guard Roger Davis, center Joe Wendryhoski, and defensive back Frank Butka.

Rams Coach Harland Sware said he was reluctant to let Arnett go, but the three new players would give the Rams added depth and the chance to improve the club in three positions.

Venturi Wins Classic Crown

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — National open champion Ken Venturi fired a 69 Sunday to capture the $50,000 American golf classic and continue his amazing comeback.

The 33 year old pro had a one under par 35-34 for a 72 hole total of 275. He finished five strokes ahead of Mason Rudolph who closed with a 72.

Venturi captured the $7,500 first prize by turning in his third subpar round in succession. He parred the first 11 holes, birdied two of the next five holes, parred the 17th and bogeyed the 18th in recording his third victory of the year.

Rudolph, who started the final round two strokes behind Venturi, ruined his chances with three bogeys on the front nine.

Arnold Palmer had a 69 for a 72 hole total of 281 that earned him the third prize money of $3,330.

Workbee Set At Memorial

The Escanaba Softball Association will hold a workbee starting this evening at 6 at Memorial Field diamond to begin putting the diamond in shape for the Michigan Class B championship tournament.

All players and managers are asked to attend the session this evening. Rakes, saws and hammers are needed.

Escanaba will be host to the state tournament over the Labor Day weekend. Hamms-Merchants will compete in the double elimination tournament as the host team, earning that spot by winning the Escanaba league championship this season.

Area Softball Teams Beaten

Escanaba district teams bowed out of Upper Peninsula softball tournament action at three sites over the weekend as rain made a mess of tourney plans.

At Houghton, the Teamsters were routed out Saturday and on Sunday they were edged 11-2 by V & D Bar of Chatham in Class C action. The tournament will be continued next weekend.

In Class B at Iron River, Flat Rock won its first start over Iron River 6-3, but then bowed to Peterson's of Gwinn 3-2 and Al & Sal's 4-0.

Still surviving in that tournament are Al & Sal's and Soo Northview in the loose bracket and Negaunee MULIC and Gwinn in the winners bracket.

In Class D at Crystal Falls, the Iron Mountain First National Bank team defeated Stevenson Chev of Hancock 9-0 for the Upper Peninsula championship.

Bero Motors of Escanaba defeated Ishpeming WJPD 5-4 in its first Class D start and bowed to Crystal Falls Bank team 3-1 in its second game.

Bill Rodman singled home Ben Yagodzinski with the winning run in the seventh inning against Ishpeming. Dale Bitner and Chum Derouin shared the Bero mound.

Jug Bordeaux threw a five hitter in the game against Crystal Falls and drove home Rodman with Bero's lone run in the fourth inning.

Dartball Loop Calls Meeting

A meeting of the Church Dartball men's league will be held Tuesday, Aug. 25, at 7:30 p.m. at Christ The King Church.

Plans will be made and the schedule drawn for the coming season.

Pro Charts

By MURRAY OLDERMAN

RUNNING The best, with Paul Hornung indicating he's never been away and Jimmy Taylor spy as ever. For speed, there's Elijah Pitts. And Tom Moore has to be the best sub in football. There's even another Hornung type on hand in Dennis Claridge, who'll be a quarterback eventually. A+

PASSING Most underrated quarterback in football is Bart Starr. Rates only behind Unitas, Tittle. Not deadly long passer but good enough and heady, courageous signal caller. Zeke Bratkowski is in reserve. B+

RECEIVING Same old threesome of Max McGee, Boyd Dowler split wide. Ron Kramer in tight. Kramer is in Ditka class. There's more height than speed in flanked spots. Tom Moore has worked there, too. So far, Bob Jeter has been disappointing as deep threat. Marv Fleming helps Kramer. B

OFFENSIVE LINE Won't look the same without Ringo. Bob Skoronski, shifted to center, is bigger but can provide same mobility? Jerry Kramer, Fuzzy Thurston pace the running attack at guards. All-Pro Forrest Gregg saved tackle situation by renouncing retirement. Dan Grimm is swing man. A—

DEFENSIVE LINE If there's any soft spot on Packers, this is it. Tipoff is use if rookie Lloyd Voss at defensive end. Willie Davis, Henry Jordan are class, Lionel Aldridge is improving sophomore. But it's tough to count on aging Dave Hanmer for another big year, or Urban Henry. B—

LINEBACKING Lombardi forestalled collapse by getting LeeRoy Caffey from Eagles to replace retired Bill Forester. With Dave Robinson ready for No. 1 status, it could leave Dan Currie on bench, and that's an endorsement. Ray Nitschke is making a strong comeback as middle man. B+

SECONDARY Nothing like experience, and they have it with Jesse Whitenton, Herb Adderley at corners, Hank Gremminger, Willie Wood at safeties and vet Jerry Norton to fill in. Rookie Tom Brown, Duke Carlisle represent investment for future. Wood, Adderley are in all-pro class. A—

SUMMARY—Pity the poor Packers. They were only 11-2-1 last year and have nowhere to go but up. The return of Hornung should fire them up and coach Vince Lombardi has subtly begun replacing the old guys without weakening the cast. The only place where they could get hurt would be on defensive line. Make them favorites in West.

Norm Bass Is Man With Varied Past

By MURRAY OLDERMAN

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Norm Bass can say at the age of 23 there isn't much he hasn't tried, in a gaming way. He went to college on a basketball scholarship, played varsity football, became a winning pitcher in the major leagues and now, seven years after he last hit a guy with shoulder pads, is a starting defensive back in the secondary of the Denver Broncos.

In 1961, Norm won 11 games for the Kansas City Athletics, at the insistence of Charley Finley. That is, owner Charley Finley insisted that Hank Bauer, then the manager, take Norman out of the bullpen and use him as a starting pitcher. And he promptly shut out the Red Sox with a three-hitter.

But the next spring, Eddie Lopat became the pitching coach, and he couldn't understand how a guy could win 11 games in the majors without throwing a curve ball. Norm had a natural three-quarter arm delivery. "Lopat had me throwing directly overhand to work on the curve," he said. "By the time the spring was over, I couldn't even raise my arm to take a shower."

"They sent me to the Mayo Clinic for three weeks and stuck a big needle in me and told me I had tendonitis."

IT WAS about then that Bass began thinking in terms of football. He had been a flanker back at University of the Pacific, where his older brother Dick was an All-American halfback. Dick went on to a starring career with the Los Angeles Rams which is still in full flourish. Back in 1959, Pete Rozelle, then the general manager of the Rams, had called Norm at a winter instructional league to lure him out of baseball, but Bass didn't bite.

Norm Bass

"If I could stay healthy," he admitted, "baseball is my sport. It's not as hard work."

During the 1962 and '63 seasons he struggled to stay on as a pitcher, commuting between Kansas City and the minors. At Portland, he was submarining the ball like a softball hurler. He started this spring at Dallas, pitched six innings in April and sprained his ankle. Two months ago he quit.

"The Rams and the Broncos offered me trials as a defensive back," said Norm. "I knew George Dickson of the Denver staff because he coached me in college. The Broncos also offered me more money."

His highest salary in baseball was $11,000 his one good year at Kansas City. He'll match that in pro football as a rookie, if he makes it. And it looks as if he will.

NORM HAS THE SIZE — 6-3 and 210 pounds — and the speed — 4.7 seconds for 40 yards — they look for in a defensive back.

The problems he has are natural ones — like learning to run backwards.

"I'd turn tail just like I was chasing a fly ball," said Norm. "I found out you can't do that. The receiver by that time is over on the other side of the field."

"When I came to camp, I was real, real soft. I had to run more and faster than I ever had to in baseball. My neck got stiff from the contact work."

"But the biggest trouble I have is trying to talk football language. I call it a flanker. They call it an 'X' and a 'Y'. Baseball is all simple. There's nothing fancy about a let-up curve."

He has, however, found one real compensation in the hard knocks of football. As a pitcher, he had a volatile temper which affected his work.

"All I could do," reviewed Norm, "was squeeze the ball. In football, though, you can hit somebody and that mad feeling leaves you."

UMPIRE IN DISTRESS

Plate umpire Al Salerno looks chagrined as well as all shook up after being felled by a wild pitch. Baltimore Oriole catcher Charlie Lau isn't too concerned over the matter.

Plum's Passing Paces Detroit Against Eagles

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—(AP)—Milt Plum threw two touchdown passes and set up a field goal with his passing Sunday to spark the Detroit Lions to a 17-13 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles.

The exhibition game was played at Franklin Field for the benefit of the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library fund. It was witnessed by 30,045 fans.

The Eagles got off to a 3-0 lead when Sam Baker kicked a 41 yard field goal in the first quarter.

Later in the same period, Detroit started from its 27 and marched 73 yards for its first touchdown. Plum connected with Gail Cogdill on a 50 yard pass play for the touchdown.

Detroit scored again in the second quarter, moving 69 yards in 10 plays with Plum firing five yards to Pat Studstill for the TD.

The Eagles pulled to within a point at 14-13 in the second half with a field goal and a touchdown.

In the third quarter the Eagles took over on the Detroit 49 when a fake kick by Yale Larry failed. They moved to the 34 where Baker kicked his second field goal—from 34 yards out.

The Eagles moved 77 yards in 11 plays for their only touchdown in the fourth quarter, with Tom Woodeshick going over from the two.

John Seedborg, a rookie from Arizona State, kicked a 35 yard field goal late in the final period Saturday that led the Washington Redskins to a 27-24 National Football league exhibition victory over the New York Giants.

The Giants, who suffered their third defeat in a row, had gone in front, 24-21, on Clarence Childs' 99 yard kick-off return.

Seedborg quickly tied it with a 46 yard field goal and then, with 4 minutes 7 seconds remaining, booted the clincher.

Y. A. Tittle did the New York quarterbacking in the first half and rookie Gary Wood handled chores in the second half.

Fran Tarkenton brought Minnesota from behind with a 10 yard touchdown pass in the final 24 seconds and the Vikings defeated San Francisco 24-21 in a National Football league exhibition game here Saturday night.

Tarkenton engineered the winning 60 yard scoring drive and personally set it up with a run and lateral to halfback Tommy Mason.

The play carried to the San Francisco 10, from where Tarkenton hit end Gordy Smith in the corner of the end zone.

Jim Ninowski threw five touchdown passes and Cleveland's defense bottled up Pittsburgh as the Browns overwhelmed the Steelers here Saturday night in a National Football league exhibition game, 42-7.

Ninowski, last year's No. 2 quarterback for the Browns, fired two touchdown passes to Gary Collins in the second quarter.

The Los Angeles Rams, sputtering on offense, relied on defense in the fourth period to beat the Dallas Cowboys in a National Football league exhibition game here Saturday night, 25-16.

Ram rookie defense back Andy Von Sonm of UCLA and veteran Eddie Meador picked off fourth period passes by Dick Bass and Percis Atkins, to pull out the victory before a capacity crowd of 30,565.

Ram rookie place kicker Bruce Gossett kicked three field goals and extra points.

Stokes' Case Taken To Basketball Heart

By SANDY PADWE

NEW YORK —(NEA)— It has been six years since that horrible night on the plane from Detroit to Cincinnati when the seemingly indestructible man, 6-7, 240-pound Maurice Stokes, collapsed into helplessness.

The doctors called it encephalitis (sleeping sickness) and for weeks they watched silently as one of the world's best basketball players lay in a coma.

When Maurice Stokes finally awoke, it was to a world of doctors, nurses, therapy machines and heavy iron braces.

That was just half of it. The other consisted of Jack Twyman and Haskell Cohen, the two men who have made Stokes' future a crusade for the National Basketball Assn.

Twyman, who played with Stokes at Rochester and then at Cincinnati, is his legal guardian while Cohen, the National Basketball Assn. publicity director, helps with fund-raising efforts like the annual Stokes benefit game played each summer at Kutscher's Country Club, Monticello, N.Y.

Cohen's part in the Stokes story is not generally known. "I knew Maurice when he was a high school kid from Westinghouse in Pittsburgh," Cohen said. "I followed him in college and really got close to him when he came in the league."

"He was a great athlete and a fine kid. He was very well mannered. That's why I get so emotional about the whole thing. I don't like to see him the way he is now, confined to his room."

"Don't misunderstand though. Maurice has made improvement. He's very alert, he reads, watches television and gets around with braces.

"The boys in the league like to stop off and see him when they're in Cincinnati, and Maurice loves it. Some of them really go out of their way for him."

"I remember Bob Pettit came in once during the summer and brought Maurice a hi-fi set. It was a wonderful thing."

"Then last year Pettit was supposed to play in our game in the mountains and he spent $150 of his own money to get there. He was up at his camp in New Hampshire and missed his connections somehow. By game time, he still hadn't showed."

"During the first quarter I saw him get out of a car. I had his uniform ready and he changed in the car and went right out and played."

"That's the way the players feel about Maurice and the game. Gus Johnson is another example. He doesn't know Stokes, but he asked to play in the game this year. And Wilt Chamberlain cut short a vacation in Europe to come back for it. Remember, these guys don't even get expenses."

The idea for the game originated with Cohen five years ago and he asked Twyman about it, since Jack is responsible for the Stokes fund.

"Jack liked it," Cohen said, "and since we've started we've raised $30,000. Jack does most of the work on the game."

"He's really wonderful. You know, he still sees Maurice for a few minutes almost every day. But he's getting worried about what might happen when he's ready to retire."

"He only has a few years left now and it's important to have someone active on the club for speaking engagements and things like that. Oscar Robertson has been helping out a lot now and will be able to take over when Jack retires."

While all this is happening, Stokes continues his part of the fight. It may not be very encouraging, at times, but the people around Cincinnati's Christ Hospital find Stokes a willing patient.

And grateful to men like Jack Twyman and Haskell Cohen.

Olympic Breach

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — In the 1904 Olympic games held in St. Louis, one of the marathon runners, presumably finishing first, was later found to have hitchhiked for a part of the distance.

FATHER AND SON—Joe Coleman Sr. is a proud father and his son Joe Jr., a happy youngster, over the latter's selection as one of the nation's best schoolboy pitchers.

And So A Career Began On Connie Mack's Knee

By SANDY PADWE

NEW YORK (NEA) — Although Joe Coleman Jr., was just a kid—about three or four—he vaguely remembers those first trips to Shibe Park in Philadelphia where the elderly gentleman in the street suit always sat erect in the dugout corner.

"I was real young," he said, "but I can remember the time I sat on Mr. Mack's knee for a picture. We have it at home now in a big frame."

"I used to go to the park with my dad a lot when I was small. Sometimes Mr. Mack used to talk to me on the bench during practice."

"After the games I always used to run around the infield and slide into every base. Then I used to help the ground crew put the tarp out. When I got home I used to get heck from my mother for coming home so dirty."

As the younger Coleman (17) traced his baseball background, his father, a healthy-looking 42, tried to conceal the pride for a son who is regarded as one of the best schoolboy pitchers in the East.

"Joe's always been with me," said the elder Coleman, who pitched for the old Philadelphia A's, Baltimore Orioles and Detroit Tigers.

He's been associated with baseball all his life. But I haven't forced anything on him. He went into it himself, starting with the Little League.

"He has a lot of ability and has a good arm. He can throw hard, too." The scouts have been around since his sophomore year, but they're not allowed to touch him until after he graduates next June.

The Colemans live in Natick, Mass., these days and young Joe's ability and potential have been one of the prime baseball topics around there for the past two years.

"I don't mind dad watching me pitch," young Joe said, "because after the game I know he's going to tell me what I did wrong. He's been making me concentrate on throwing over-hand instead of three-quarter arm, and he makes me watch my control and not bother with the breaking stuff so much."

"I definitely want to make baseball my career. Right now I'm inclined toward Detroit. That's where dad finished his career and I guess Al Kaline is still sort of my idol."

The conversation with the younger Coleman had to end at this point, and he headed for the Yankee Stadium outfield to get in some running in preparation for an all-star schoolboy game.

His father, as usual, was in the stands during the practice session to watch and instruct.

Joe Coleman Sr., who won 52 games and lost 76 in the majors, watched his son in Yankee Stadium and felt funny.

From the start back there on Connie Mack's knee, this was the hope. Now it's here.

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Toronto Police
Await Beatles

TORONTO (AP) — When the Beatles come to Toronto Sept. 7 they will be greeted by the usual mob of scream girls — and 775 police.

The city will form a special Beatle brigade with one-third of the police force to keep order around the mop-haired English rock 'n' roll quartet.

Another Mass in English at the auditorium at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday. Feast of St. Louis IX, king of France and patron of the city.

Celebration of the Mass in English comes three months before the authorized change from Latin in affects other areas of the United States. The rest of the country will make the change Nov. 29, the first Sunday of Advent.

The liturgical conference is the formal Catholic body concerned with Christian worship. It comprises educators, Bible scholars, musicians, artists and others involved in Church liturgy.

Report Mishaps Over Weekend

State Police investigated several accidents on Delta County Roads over the weekend and ticketed seven motorists for traffic violations.

Robert Lee Young, 26, of Rte. 1 Gladstone was arrested Saturday at 2:25 a.m. for driving under the influence of alcohol. Young was observed driving in an erratic manner in Masonville Township. He appeared before Justice Ross Davis of Gladstone and pleaded not guilty and posted bond of $25 pending appearance in September.

Minor damage resulted in a two car collision at 1:15 p.m. Saturday on M-35 just north of the Menominee County line. Frederick Kundert Jr., 37, of Evansville, Wis., reported that as he was traveling on M-35 he noticed a car driven by Celina Nelson, 63, of Bark River that had stopped on the right shoulder. Kundert attempted to pass the car as Mrs. Nelson began to make a left hand turn. Kundert stated he did not see the turn signal. No tickets were issued.

The second chain reaction accident in two days happened at 5:32 p.m. Saturday on M-35 near Jack and Angie's Restaurant. A similar accident happened Friday on M-35 in Kipling involving six cars. According to State Police cars driven by Helene Ross, 33, of Hancock and William Kamka, 54, of Pestigo, Wis., were going south and had stopped on the highway. A third car driven by Herbert Buchholz, 44, of Bonduelli, Wis., struck the Kamka car and a fourth car driven by Betty Anderson, 32, of Pestigo, hit the Buchholz vehicle. The Anderson car was damaged extensively and Mrs. Anderson was ticketed for violation of the basic speed law, too fast for conditions. No one was injured.

Lee Jones, 55, of Sturgis, reported an unusual incident to State Police on Sunday. He stated he was traveling east on US 2 near the Rapid River bridge about 6:30 p.m. when he accidentally struck a pedestrian. Jones says an unknown man was walking on the shoulder of the road and when he approached the man stuck his arm out and the rear view mirror on the Jones car hit the man's arm. Jones said he stopped and the man disappeared. Summonses for traffic violations were issued to: Carl Nordgren, Chicago, failure to yield the right of way; Floyd C. Rhode, Carney, failure to transfer registration plates; Richard Gonske, Menominee, speeding; Gerald VanBuren, Marquette, defective equipment and Leonard Gustafson, Rapid River, speeding.

Tenth Of Delta
Cows On Test

The number of Michigan dairymen keeping production records on their dairy cattle increases each year.

The number of cows on test represented 22.4 per cent of all cows in the state during 1963, says J. L. Heirman, Delta County Extension director. This compared with only 19.7 per cent of the state's cows on test in 1961. A total of 9,760 additional cows were enrolled in testing programs conducted within the state during 1963.

Delta County had a total of 428 cows on test during 1963, which was about 10 per cent of all cows in the county. State leader for cows on test was Oakland County, with 43 per cent of all cows on test. Sanilac County had the most cows on test with 6,908. A total of 36 counties had at least 20 per cent of their dairy cattle on test in 1963.

Dairymen keeping production records mainly use the dairy herd improvement association system. Slightly over 60 per cent of all cows tested in the state last year were in DHIA. Owner-sampler enrolled over 38 per cent of all cows on test. Here in our area where we have few pure bred herds the owner-

NEW USE FOR THE LASER BEAM—That handy scientific device, the laser beam, is now being used to treat eye defects. Dr. Milton Flocks, Palo Alto, Calif., ophthalmologist, is preparing to aim a ruby laser at the patient's eye. The instrument fires powerful bursts of light of short duration which passes through the transparent tissue and liquid. The laser beam is also used to "spot weld" holes and tears in the retina to prevent detachment.

Kids Really Love The Crazy Dances

MANSFIELD, Ohio (NEA) — The big, converted barn is hot and jammed with gyrating youngsters, many scrunched together in pulsating knots.

The three-piece band is rocking with a solid Boom-boom-boom-boom beat. The amplifier screams of an organ add the simple melody.

A cop, leaning on a door jamb, mops his sweating face and smiles. "After this," he says, "the kids are too tired to get into trouble."

The kids in this small Ohio city, as well as in cities and towns throughout the country, were dancing. Not the familiar jitterbug or once-popular Twist. They were involved with such esoteric items as the Monkey, Frug, Dogb, Watusi, Slop, Wobble, Fish and dozens of variations.

Grownups gimaced. Waitresses, who had to navigate trays of soft drinks through the weaving, tennis-shoed herds, were harried. But the youngsters were having fun.

How do you tell one dance from another?

"You just improvise," a fresh-faced 16-year-old girl explained, between sets. "We don't care much about the names. One's about the same as the other, although maybe you move your arms and shuffle your feet differently. We just follow the rhythm."

And yet most of the youngsters have at least a vague idea of what's expected of them in each dance. Ecott Muni, a New York disc jockey, says that television is responsible.

"Before television," Muni says, there were no real means of exposing a new dance to millions of youngsters simultaneously. The television 'teen bandstand' type of show came along and, suddenly, boys and girls in every part of the country could see how new dances were being done.

But why so many dances? "Kids get bored quickly," Muni says. "They're always anxious to pick up something new. That's why there are so many dances. Before television, you'd have standards like the rumba and samba that went on for years and years. Things are different now."

Contemporary historians of the dance say the root of all new versions is the Twist, which they say was probably started several years ago by that master hip-swiveler, Elvis Presley (although some swear it's a French import).

And in most cases, the record comes before the dance. "You've got to have a record so that you can establish the beat of a particular dance," Muni explains. "Most of these songs actually include some kind of dance instruction in the lyrics."

One new dance, "The Wrangler Stretch," is quite explicit. The song's lyrics say: "All you gotta do is stretch and shake your hips around. Stretch and now you're off the ground. And then you're doin' the Wrangler Stretch."

The dancers rarely touch their partners in any of the new dances (although they often collide with other couples). The idea is to improvise wild, impossible-to-do-twice movements around a basic rhythm, in much the same way a jazz pianist will noodle around a single theme, constantly building, constantly moving further away.

The new dances appear to be closely guarded by the young adherents. Few are known to the general public until they're discarded by the originators and are picked up by Cafe Society people and mass magazines. Thus, when the Twist was — and perhaps still is — a national sensation, youngsters were dancing something else.

One exception to this general rule is when Luci Johnson danced the Frug at the White House. Luci, hip to the dancing habits of her teen-aged colleagues, exposed to a national audience a dance still "in" with the younger set. The kids shortly thereafter jumped to the Flop and Bug.

College students, too, "discover" a new dance after their younger brothers and sisters have moved to something else, but before Zsa Zsa Gabor has learned it.

Muni says America has just seen the first few of a long line of wacky dances to come. "The kids are beginning to dance at a very early age," he points out. "When I appear at dance hops, I see 10-year-olds who are accomplished dancers."

"I've been in cities where some junior high schoolers will get together after classes and form a sort of informal dancing club where they'll come up with their own variations of the popular steps. I'm sure teen-agers will continue to embrace hundreds of new dances with wild and wonderful names."

Pretty soon the youngsters will discover a jazzed-up version of the minuet, and dancing will have come full circuit.

Olives are graded in as many as 13 different sizes, from Large through Giants, Jumbos, Colossals and Supercolossals. The really big ones are called super Supremes.
